TREY AND KIKI ADAMS #10160

Trey and Kirsten (Kiki) Adams are headed to Bangkok, Thailand, for several years and are excited to be a part of what God is doing in several new church plants there. They met after graduating from Valdosta State University and Belhaven University respectively, and soon realized that they felt a common call to Asia. They married after they returned from Bangkok in 2004.

Since that time, they have been consistently preparing to serve as missionaries in Thailand. Their preparation has included serving on staff with a church plant in Atlanta from 2005-2008 and then earning seminary degrees—a master's of divinity for Trey and a master's in marriage and family therapy and counseling for Kiki.

Trey will be working as an ordained assistant to a Thai pastor as well as serving in the diverse community ministries of the church. Kiki will use her training in counseling to support the Thai staff in the counseling needs of the church and community as well as counseling other missionaries in the area. As a couple, they hope to host visiting short-term teams and spread a passion for the growth of God's kingdom in Thailand.
