DOUG AND JEANIE BIRDSALL

Doug and Jeanie met at Wheaton College. They were married after graduation and began studies at Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary in Boston a year later. Though they had planned on going into pastoral work, God redirected them to cross-cultural ministry during their last year in seminary.

Within six months of graduation, they arrived in Tokyo in 1980 for the beginning of a lifetime of service in Asia. Since then, Doug has completed graduate work at Harvard University. He serves as the founding director of the J. Christy Wilson Center for World Missions at Gordon-Conwell, and as the chair of the Leadership Development Working Group for the Lausanne Committee for World Evangelization.

Doug and Jeanie have served with Asian Access/LIFE Ministries since 1980. Doug currently serves as the president of Asian Access/LIFE Ministries, a mission that has been based in Japan with a commitment to starting and strengthening Japanese churches in partnership with visionary pastors and congregations. This ministry has expanded with a strategy to develop leadership training programs in 20 countries of Asia that are home to 60% of the world's population.
