TERRY & FRANCINE CLARKE #11243

Terry and Francine Clarke have been serving in Australia since January 2007. Their interest in foreign missions began during Terry's doctoral studies in England. Two trips to Romania to lecture at a Bible college, and several years in England made it clear that even in highly developed countries there was a need for qualified professors who faithfully taught the Scriptures. So, when an opening developed at Westminster Theological College and the Consortium of Reformed Colleges (Brisbane, Australia) Terry and Francine jumped at the opportunity to serve the Lord overseas.

Terry is currently the principal and Old Testament lecturer at Sunshine Coast Theological College. The college was established 25 years ago in Brisbane by MTW missionaries and the Westminster Presbyterian Church. In 2009, the college was relocated to the Sunshine Coast, which is 75 miles north of Brisbane. In addition to his work at the college, Terry has many opportunities to preach in the local churches and teaches a multi-denominational New Bible study twice a month at a local coffee shop.

Francine uses her administrative and organizational skills and serves as the chief administrative officer, registrar, and special event coordinator of the college.
