DENNIS AND RHONDA CONROY #11120

The Conroys met in Orlando, Fla., while Dennis was working at Ligonier Ministries and Rhonda was teaching at Orangewood Christian School. Soon after they were married, they sensed God leading them into missionary service and in 1987 they attended language school in Costa Rica. Dennis and Rhonda served for two years in Merida, Mexico, working with Logoi, where they supported the training of national pastors in Latin America. Dennis later pursued training from Wycliffe Bible Translators in desktop publishing, which led to an assignment with Wycliffe in Davao, Philippines, in June 1994.

Dennis prepares Scripture translations of minority languages for publishing. As translators complete portions of Scripture, the computer files are passed along to Dennis, who runs numerous checks on the text and prepares the manuscript for printing. In 2010 Dennis began typesetting for digital media, providing electronic accessibility to Bibles for minority languages. In addition he has been called on to serve in other ways, including participation on a security committee and a school board for both elementary and high school.

Rhonda believes that her primary call is as wife and mother. She uses her teaching background with their four children, and also in the broader missionary community.
