TRACE AND GINGER DONAHOO #11826

Trace, who grew up in north Alabama, has been involved in youth and college ministry for many years. He graduated from The University of South Alabama in 2003. His experience in short-term missions and as a teacher and coach made him realize that he would like to serve others through full-time missions. Currently, Trace serves as a deacon and Mercy Ministry chairman at Community Presbyterian Church in Moody, Alabama.

Ginger, a native of middle Tennessee, holds a degree in drafting and design. She has ministered to children, youth, and college students for over 10 years and works as children's ministry director at Community Presbyterian Church. Ginger and Trace are the parents of a daughter, Ansley, and a son, Cullen.

Praying that they will see the gospel transform the lives of the British, the Donahoes will work in partnership with the International Presbyterian Church, with the goal of planting churches in northwest England. They plan to live in the village of Culcheth, where their primary work will be with young adults, ages 16-24, and with children. They hope to meet and minister to families through involvement in the local community, and eventually to facilitate church plants in Warrington and Manchester.
