DAN AND REBECCA GREGOIRE #012767

After meeting at the University of Alabama Dan and Rebecca married in 1997 and lived in Salt Lake City, UT. There Dan served as a ruling elder in their young PCA church.

Seeking to involve themselves and their church in missions, they led a team to Slovakia to teach a one-week English camp for middle and high school students. They were immediately drawn to the people and saw the urgent need for long-term workers.

Since the fall of communism a decade ago, spiritually speaking, there have been two lasting results. First, communism destroyed the church for two generations. The current generation does not know God and therefore is not teaching the next about Him. Secondly, the current trend of relativism in their society is a reaction to communism's mandate that there is only one way, "the party way." This one way or the highway has led to a hesitancy to tell others there is only one way to live.

The Gregoires are passionate about spending a generation in Slovakia, walking with Slovaks from high school, through college, marriage and family life, teaching them about God and how to live with Christ as the center of life.
