ROGER AND ABI LOWTHER #14376 MUSIC AND ARTS

Roger (B.S. Columbia University, M.M. The Juilliard School) and Abi (B.M. Belhaven College, M.M. University of Memphis) use their gifts as musicians and artists to support church planting in Japan. Music is especially powerful at communicating the gospel, where only 0.4 percent of the nation is considered Christian. They have been serving with Mission to the World since 2003.

Roger and Abi are part of a new church-planting effort in center-city Tokyo led by a Japanese pastor, Rev. Makoto Fukuda. Through concerts and other artistic events, they create opportunities for friendship and evangelism, and connect churches to surrounding communities.

Roger and Abi often travel and perform with Japanese clarinetist Yoshimi Hirota and other Japanese musicians to encourage growth in the church. In addition, they also mentor Japanese Christians in leading worship as well as resourcing and empowering nationals in indigenous worship and song writing.
