LOIS OOMS #15703

From 1969 to the present, Lois Ooms has seen her ministry to needy Africans expand phenomenally, both in geography and gospel impact.

Beginning as a teacher and youth worker in Kenya, Lois also worked with the Tei wa Yesu (Compassion of Jesus) Health Center. In 1987, she began a community health/evangelism program, teaching health, digging shallow wells, and promoting AIDS education.

After two years in Eritrea, training birth attendants and community health workers, while presenting the gospel to Muslim women, Lois returned to Kenya to coordinate community health at AIC Litein Hospital. There the traditional birth attendant training and deworming programs expanded rapidly, reaching remote parts of Kenya. The gospel, integrated into health teaching, has helped church planting and church growth in several areas.

As colleagues have taken up work Lois began, she has focused on training others to begin simple, low-cost community development programs. Through the success of these efforts, requests for help from other African and Middle Eastern countries have multiplied.

Since January 2008, Lois has been based in the U.S., to be more available to consult with and train workers interested in transformational development in war-torn and creative-access countries and developing user-friendly materials.
