CAROLYN PHILLIPS #16176

Carolyn's passion for healthy churches and healthy church members began in Montgomery, Ala., where she grew up in a missions-minded, outreach-oriented church. After graduation from Auburn University, her passion for missions grew as she answered the call to minister on a church-planting team in Milan, Italy. Upon returning to the States, Carolyn worked in the private sector and became involved in her local church, including serving on its Global Ministry Team. She then joined her church's staff to work with the Embers to a Flame Church Revitalization Ministry, a conference and coaching effort for encouraging churches toward greater church health.

Approximately 350,000 people join the evangelical church in Africa every two weeks. (As a point of reference, that's the present size of the PCA.) This growth rate presents a tremendous need and wonderful opportunity for training pastors and church leaders across the continent. The MTW team in Kampala, Uganda, desires to come alongside the Presbyterian Church in Uganda to develop a church-planting training and assessment center. Carolyn plans to assist with that effort, which will include a church revitalization emphasis as well. She is eager to be used of God to help bring Ugandans to a deeper knowledge of Christ and a biblical understanding of the gospel.
