Bill & Akemi Rhea #16632

Bill and Akemi have six naturally born children and nine children whom they adopted from around the world. The youngest eight daughters live with them in Cambodia.

Bill is a retired State District Judge who was rescued from a life of affluence, arrogance and adultery. He is living the love of Christ in ways he never imagined, serving the helpless and afflicted in Cambodia with Mission to the World.

Akemi identifies with the "woman at the well" as a former Playboy Bunny who was rescued from a life of promiscuity, drug abuse, and abortion. Since her rescue, Jesus continues to heal her wounds. Akemi now lives in the light of who she is in Christ.

The multi-cultural nature of the Rhea family opens many doors of conversation and ministry in Cambodia. The Rheas also identify with the culture through their many afflictions. For example, the tragic murder of 25 year-old son Adrain in 2008, has enabled them to more deeply relate to Cambodians still plagued by the horrific memories of the Killing Fields.

The Rhea family longs not only to share their own stories of rescue, but also to listen to the many wounded people among whom they live
