STEVE AND NANCY ROWAN #16510

Since 1985, the Rowans have been involved with Mission to the World in cooperative agreement with Wycliffe USA. Until 2003 their area of service has been administration of Bible translation projects in Peru. Both Steve and Nancy served at various levels of administration within the organization in Peru, including three years as general director of the work.

In 2003 the Rowans' focus shifted to expanding a new strategy, "chronological Bible storying," within the Wycliffe Family of Organizations. Wycliffe is presently working in partnership with Campus Crusade for Christ, Youth With A Mission, Trans

World Radio, and the International Mission Board to develop this oral strategy as a viable approach to reach the approximately 5,000 unreached people groups of the world who are without Bibles and/or oral learners. Steve and Nancy are part of the small but growing group within Wycliffe who are focusing on this method. Their job is the recruitment and training of young people to develop and train mother tongue speakers to use Bible storytelling to present the gospel and lay the foundation for Bible translation and Scripture use.
