MEDICAL MISSIONS

John and Elizabeth Sexton have been missionaries with MTW since 1993. John is a family nurse practitioner with a master's degree in community health, and Elizabeth is a registered nurse. Both have seminary training. In addition to international medical experience, they have trained village health workers in Peru for two years, and were community developers in Mexico for five.

The Sextons have a word and deed ministry with missionaries and national workers. They focus on three main areas of medical ministry with MTW: assessing physical needs of communities, training, and leading medical teams.

MTW teams request assessment of physical needs of communities where they are serving. The Sextons then help them develop plans to reach these needs. Each year they train MTW medical team leaders, short- and long-term missionaries, and teach missionary medicine intensive courses. John and Elizabeth also develop health curriculums and train community health workers. Lastly, they enjoy the privilege of leading short-term medical teams and assisting in disaster relief.

Since 2002, John and Elizabeth have served in Mexico, Belize, Honduras, Peru, Ethiopia, Myanmar, and Central Asia. The Sextons live near Asheville, NC, and are members of Arden Presbyterian Church.
