HOWARD AND DEIDRE SHELDEN #016816

INTERNATIONAL ADMINISTRATION

Howard and Deidre serve under a cooperative agreement with Wycliffe. Howard graduated from Wheaton College and has an M.A. in linguistics from the University of Texas. Deidre has an M.A. in intercultural studies from Fuller School of World Mission in California.

For 20 years the Sheldens served in a strategic Indo-Pacific country that has gradually become more closed to missionaries. They translated Genesis and the New Testament into the language of a religiously divided people group. The work was completed and dedicated in 2002, along with other projects designed to benefit refugees as well as nurture and sustain the local churches.

The Sheldens are currently serving at Wycliffe's International headquarters in Dallas, Texas, where they use their experience to assist other translators. Howard works as a subject matter expert with computer programmers developing the next generation of translation software. Deidre is a personnel administrator, supervising, guiding and mentoring new recruits through the training and assignment process required to successfully field new translators and support workers. Nationals trained by the Sheldens are continuing to translate the Bible into another language.
