SUSAN WOOD #18120

Born in Iowa, Susan spent her childhood in Pennsylvania and North Carolina. She was raised in the Presbyterian Church and became a Christian as a child. However, it was through the influence of a Christian roommate and friend at college that she began to grow in her walk with the Lord.

After earning a degree in occupational therapy, Susan went to work as an occupational therapist at the V.A. Hospital in Butler, Pennsylvania. In Butler, she became a member of Westminster Presbyterian Church. Through the influence of speakers at mission conferences at the church, Susan became convinced that the Lord was leading her to serve as a missionary. In preparation for this, she went to Columbia International University, where she received an MA in Bible.

After serving three terms with the MTW church-planting team in Lisbon, Portugal, Susan is now ministering at the Portuguese Bible Institute, just outside of Lisbon. She serves as the school's librarian and teaches, plus she is currently working on her doctorate at London School of Theology. She also enjoys being an active part of the Telheiras Presbyterian Church in Lisbon, one of the churches planted by the MTW church-planting team.
