COREY AND JESSICA YOUNG #18812

Corey and Jessica both served extensively in Asia before they married in 2007. In college Corey felt called to full-time ministry. He earned a B.A. in Bible/theology from Wheaton College and an M.T.S. from Duke Divinity School. After graduate school, Corey served for three years in Asia working with universities and overseeing teams in the region. In 2006 Corey returned to the U.S. and served as the director of world missions at Park Cities Presbyterian Church for three years.

Jessica felt called to missions since she was a little girl. Over 20 years later she headed to Asia for her first overseas assignment. She has worked in social work, English as a foreign language, and women's ministries.

Corey and Jessica are serving with MTW's church-planting work in Cambodia. Corey will focus on mentoring, teaching, and training city leaders, and Jessica on teaching English and reaching out to the university population.

Cambodia has a strong Buddhist presence, which contributes to many people trying to find peace and happiness in their own self-determined ways. The Youngs seek to join the efforts of the Church in Cambodia to share about the ultimate peace and happiness found only in the gospel.
